WANTED PERSONS: Persons willing to move a three tonne solid concrete cube from St. Lawrence Market to Eaton's Square Shopping Centre.

OCCUPATION: Lawyer, Baker, Jewelry Maker, Antique Dealer, Organic Farmer, Canadian Literature Professor and Hot Dog Vendor, (one of each only).

PURPOSE: For unique art project involving collective improvisation.

DISTANCE BETWEEN LOCATIONS: Approximately one kilometre, via Wellington and Yonge Street.

REMARKS: The concrete block must be moved without the aid of machinery.

PROPOSED ACTIVITY DATE: July/August 2010

Lawyer, Baker, Antique Dealer, Seamstress, Organic Farmer, Canadian Literature Professor and Hot Dog Vendor wanted to participate in unique art project. Using a process of collective improvisation, participants will be required to transport a three tonne solid concrete cube from St. Lawrence Market loading bay, to the Eaton's Centre Trinity Way entrance.

The collaborative task must be completed without the aid of machinery, and within in a two week time period. Participants will be permitted to utilize scavenged materials from a one hundred foot vicinity of the location of the cube. Participants may also consult with the internet and the general public for assistance.

Participants will not be financially compensated for their time, although lunches will be provided in appreciation of their efforts.
